

Educational programme

The situation-oriented approach forms the framework for the educational activities in the Marie Juchacz Family Centre. This enables the children to find out about themselves, find their own expression, practice participation, and gain self-confidence and independence.

They discover bonds and experience conflicts and their possible solutions. Cross-group activities expand the children's experience. Trying, exploring and playing are the focus of all our services.

At the Marie Juchacz Family Centre, we provide children with educational processes in these areas

- Movement
- Body, health and nutrition
- Language and communication
- Social, cultural and intercultural education
- Musical and artistic education
- Ethical education
- Mathematical education
- Scientific education
- Dealing with media

Families in focus

Families are at the centre of our work. We care for children, support them individually and offer families a meeting place, comprehensive advice and education. Both the integration of immigrant families and supporting families with children who have special needs are important to us. We also offer eight special educational places and five integrative places in our facility.

Advice and support for children and families

The Marie Juchacz Family Centre has a good network in the district. By involving other institutions, it guarantees families a wide range of experts to support them with a wide variety of questions and problems. Qualified and friendly staff will help you find the right contact person.

Family education and educational partnership

The Family Centre offers a wide range of activities for all families and the social room is open to parents. Our services promote communication with each other and with our on-site experts. Recognising and developing your own strengths and resources is the basis of an equal educational partnership.

The AWO educational guidance centres and the AWO community centres provide competent support. They are reliable local partners.

Daycare

The family centre provides parents with information about various forms of childcare, especially for children under three, and helps them find qualified childcare providers.

If you have any further questions, parents can contact the AWO daycare advice centre.

What we offer in terms of childcare

- 83 places
- 10 children under three years old
- children with additional support needs
- Groups
 - One T1 group (age 2 to school age)
 - Two T3 groups (age 3 to school age)
 - One integrative T1 group for children with additional support needs
 - One SEN group

“Children are our future”

As you can deduce from this motto, every child has the right to the very best education, upbringing and care. The family centre offers children a stimulating learning atmosphere and supports them in their development.

Work-life balance

The family centre helps parents to balance their work and family. Our childcare opening hours are based on the living and working conditions of our parents. Demand is determined annually in a parent survey.

We offer parents

- Up to 47.5 hours of daycare a week
- Flexible drop-off and pick-up times
- Generally closed for up to 20 days per year
